MARTIN WINTER ESTATE SETTLED AFTER 33 YEARS

Thirty-three years after his death, a final accounting has been approved by the Adams county court of the estate of the late Martin Winter, Gettysburg real estate promoter, builder and philanthropist. Mrs. Mary Ramer Eberhart was the last of three executors of the estate.

Mr. Winter, one of Gettysburg's greatest philanthropists, left nearly his entire estate to charity. After payment of a few personal bequests, the residue was left to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith of the Catholic church, of which Bishop Fulton Sheen of New York city is president. It was to be used, according to the terms of the will, for Indian and Negro missions in the United States. The residue was well over $50,000. Mrs. Eberhart said.

Estate Sold In Parcels

Mrs. Eberhart, then Miss Mary Ramer, became administratrix of the estate when Attorney Donald P. McPherson, Jr., now state senator, entered the armed forces. He had succeeded her father, the late Judge Donald P. McPherson, in charge of the estate. Mrs. Eberhart said the estate was not settled for so many years because much of it was in real estate, including a number of tracts of land without buildings. The property was sold from time to time at private sale over the 33 years.

Mr. Winter died July 11, 1918. He had never married. During his lifetime in Gettysburg, he had exhibited a forethought in real estate development which was responsible for much of the laying-out of the northern section of the town and properties in the eastern section.

Exchanged Land

He exchanged land he owned for land owned by the college and through this exchanged the triangular plot similar to those still existing at York and Hanover streets and Buford and Springs avenues. He confined Mummasburg street to a block in length, closing the old street, and he laid out East and West Lincoln avenue and East and West Broadway. His plans were for a residential park north of Broadway. He employed a New York city landscape architect, but his plans did not materialize and the land was later sold to the college.

In his earlier years, when North Washington street was a field from Delap avenue to Water street, in order to make building lots available, at his own expense he walled the "Tiber" from North Washington to the alley in the rear of Carnegie street.

Numerous Gettysburgians thought it was a waste of money, but it paid for itself. Every house in that area was built on land purchased from Mr. Winter.

Built First 4 Homes

He built the first four houses on West Lincoln avenue now owned by Miss Martha Neely and Norman and Nina Storrick. On Broadway he started developments by building the double brick house now used by one of the college fraternities.

Former RFC Director Swears Boyle Used Political Influence

Washington, Sept. 19.—Former RFC Director William E. Willett swore today that William M. Boyle Jr. contacted him three times about loan matters after becoming Democratic national chairman.

Willett, who left the RFC Reconstruction Finance Corporation last May in a reorganization, testified before senators' investigating charges that Boyle brought political influence to bear on operations of the government loan agency.

Boyle has denied using any such influence.

Willett told a Senate investigating subcommittee he received telephone calls from Boyle arranging meetings for various persons.

One of these, he said, was on May 29, 1950, to arrange a meeting between Willett and two engineers for

One Russian Mig Jet Downed, Five Others Damaged By Yanks In Furious Fight Over Korea; Red Negotiators Ask Meeting

Torke, Sept. 19.—The United Nations command tonight agreed to a Communist request to send a liaison team tomorrow to the Kaesong neutral zone site of the suspended Korean war armistice talks.

The Reds made the request shortly after the U. N. command announced that four unarmed South Korean soldiers yesterday mistakenly entered the neutral zone.

The Red request for a meeting raised speculation that the Communist want to discuss resumption of stalled talks, or they may want to lodge another charge of Allied violation of the neutral zone.

The Reds broke out the talks Aug. 23 after charging that an Allied plane tried to "murder" Communist armistice negotiators with strafing fire in the zone the night before.

Reporters accompany group. The Reds asked for a meeting with Allied liaison officers at Panmunjom, Communist outpost near the edge of the neutral zone at 5 p.m. Thursday (4 p.m. Wednesday EST).

Brig. Gen. Frank A. Allen, chief of information general headquarters, said the U. N. liaison officers, accompanied by three correspondents, would meet with the Reds.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, has offered to send liaison officers to the outpost to discuss resumption of armistice talks any time the Reds wished. But he also has insisted that the Reds are the ones to say if and when they want the talks taken up again.

Some observers pointed out that 6 a.m. was too early in the day if the Reds wanted to talk about resuming the talks. They said the early hour indicated more probably that another Red charge was coming up and that they wanted the U. N. liaison officers to investigate as soon as possible.

Others argued, however, that the Reds might have set the early hour to get the talks underway the same day, if that is what they want.

On one, 200 Reds were killed and 37 captured by Allied infantrymen struggling up rain-swept, muddy slopes. Red resistance Tuesday on the rest of the eastern front was moderate.

Advance 15 Miles. Allied forces have driven nearly 15 miles northward in a month of savage fighting against solidly dug-in Reds in the east.

Tank-led Allied troops on the west-central front threw two surprise attacks at the Reds yesterday but were repulsed each time.

The Allied blows were aimed at a hill mass west of Chorwon, 18 miles north of Parallel 38. It was the southwestern peg of the Reds' old Iron Triangle staging area.

A cold drenching rain, maddening the bitter Korean winter to come, undermined Allied attacks Tuesday. It also hampered air attacks on North Korean rail and road routes and cut down on the air force support of ground troops.

The North Korean radio at Pyongyang Wednesday said the Communists sank an Allied destroyer in Wonsan harbor on the east coast and shot down 12 planes, including three B-29s.

The Navy Public Information office in Tokyo said it had no reports of an Allied destroyer being sunk. A Far East Air Forces spokesman said no B-29s have been lost to enemy action in Korea for several weeks.

One Russian Mig Jet Downed, Five Others Damaged By Yanks In Furious Fight Over Korea; Red Negotiators Ask Meeting

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 19 (AP)—Swift Allied jets shot down one Russian-type MIG-15 jet and damaged five in three swirling air battles over northwest Korea today.

At least 112 jets engaged in fights flashing from 30,000 feet down to tree top level.

These were the first jet fights in five days. Murky weather had curtailed jet activity.

Capt. Dennis L. Skeen of Twin Falls, Idaho, bagged the jet shot down today. It was the first time he had run into the Russian MIGs. It was his third mission over Korea.

Skeen was leading a flight of four F-84 Thunderjets southwest of Suncheon when he spotted eight MIGs. Four made runs on the Allied planes. Skeen caught the tail-enders.

Soon after, 37 American F-86 Sabre jets tangled with 40 MIGs in a swirling, 15-minute battle.

Block 2 Red Attacks

On the ground, Allied troops straddling a newly-won peak on "Heartbreak Ridge" in eastern Korea hurled back two Communist attacks Wednesday.

They won the commanding height after a bitter fight that ended Tuesday midnight.

The north-south ridge is 35 miles inland from Korea's east coast.

The Eighth Army reported earlier that three major hills were captured Tuesday by Allied forces on the flaming eastern front.

On one, 206 Reds were killed and 37 captured by Allied infantrymen struggling up rain-swept, muddy slopes.

Red resistance Tuesday on the rest of the eastern front was moderate.

Advance 15 Miles

Allied forces have driven nearly 15 miles northward in a month of savage fighting against solidly dug-in Reds in the east.

Tank-led Allied troops on the west-central front threw two surprise attacks at the Reds yesterday but were repulsed each time.

The Allied blows were aimed at a hill mass west of Chonwon, 18 miles south of Parallel 38. It was the southwestern peg of the Reds' old Iron Triangle staging area.

A cold grenching rain, mindful of the bitter Korean winter to come, undermined Allied attacks Tuesday. It also hampered air attacks on North Korean rail and road routes and cut down on the air force support of ground troops.

The North Korean radio at Pyongyang Wednesday said the Communists sank an Allied destroyer in Wonsan harbor on the east coast and shot down 12 planes, including three B-29s.

The Navy Public Information office in Tokyo said it had no reports of an Allied destroyer being sunk. A Far East Air Forces spokesman said no B-29s have been lost to enemy action in Korea for several weeks.

Quaker's Property Is Sold For Taxes

Earlham, Ia., Sept. 19.—(AP)—After a Quaker wife explained to the small crowd why she and her husband refused to pay part of their income taxes, an Internal Revenue officer yesterday auctioned off their 1939 Chevrolet two-door sedan for $45 as part payment for back taxes.

Mrs. Arthur H. Emery, Jr., told the silent crowd of about 35 that they refused to pay about 30 percent of their 1947-48 income taxes and about 70 percent of their 1949 total because those were the amounts the Bureau of the Budget estimated would go for military expense.

H. H. Jopling, of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Des Moines, the auctioneer, said the Emerys owed $240 on 1947-48 income taxes. "But we did not pocket the money," she declared. "We sent it to the Fellowship of Reconciliation, which is genuinely organized for peace and fellowship."

He laid out the center plots on West Broadway.

In addition to building streets and planting trees, Mr. Winter added such building restrictions as uniform sidewalks and house locations at uniform distances from the streets. He was building East Broadway at the time of his death. This was later taken over by the borough and the work completed.

His interests were not confined entirely to the north end of town. He was responsible for the picking and laying out of Fourth and Fifth streets, and had plans for Sixth street. His dream was to connect the north and east ends of town, and the land and development of Joseph E. Codori which was purchased from the Winter estate which had been acquired for this purpose by Mr. Winter.

Mr. Winter was interested also in industrial development in Gettysburg. He was instrumental in organizing the Gettysburg Brick company, later the Auburn Brick company. He attempted to have the borough council purchase the old electric power plant, located where the Victor Products plant now is operated, but his efforts failed.

Get Cost Figures On Water Line, Hydrants

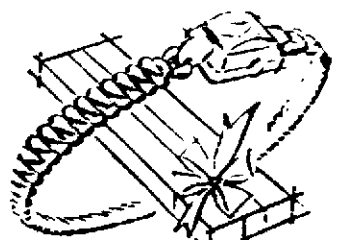

Brushtown residents are getting estimates on the probable cost of laying 5.0 feet of water mains and installing two fire hydrants to supply fire protection for their community. The water supply is to be made available from a pool to be constructed on private land by Raymond J. Hufnagel, Brushtown merchant.

"Charles 'Chuck' Myers, another Brushtown storekeeper, had planned to build the pool as a joint project but Hufnagel has offered to build the pool alone if Mr. Myers will add his contribution to the sum which will be raised by the town-folk if they decide to accept the merchant's offer.

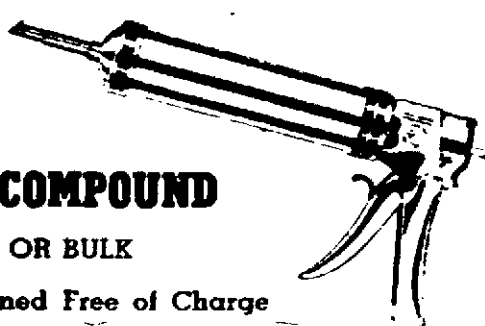

A meeting was held Monday evening when the proposition was laid before the community's residents. Another meeting will be held later this week, probably Thursday evening, for a decision after cost figures are secured.

Quaker's Property
Is Sold For Taxes

Earlham, Ia., Sept. 19 (AP)—After a Quaker wife explained to the small crowd why she and her husband refused to pay part of their income taxes, an Internal Revenue officer yesterday auctioned off their 1939 Chevrolet two-door sedan for $145 as part payment for back taxes.

Mrs. Arthur H. Emery, Jr., told the silent crowd of about 35 that they refused to pay about 30 percent of their 1947-48 income taxes and about 70 percent of their 1949 total because those were the amounts the Bureau of the Budget estimated would go for military expense.

H. H. Jopling, of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Des Moines, the auctioneer, said the Emerys owed $240 on 1947-48-49 income taxes. "But we did not pocket the money," she declared. "We sent it to the Fellowship of Reconciliation, which is genuinely organized for peace and fellowship."

The apple processing operations of The C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, went into full swing with the beginning of production on Tuesday.

The first apples to be processed was Grimes Golden. Staymans will follow. To avoid delays and waiting, growers are asked to schedule deliveries with the plant in advance.

The Inwood, W. Va., plant went into production September 10, and the Gardeners plant commenced operations September 13 on Golden Delicious.

He laid out the center plots on West Broadway.

In addition to building streets and planting trees, Mr. Winter added such building restrictions as uniform sidewalks and house locations at uniform distances from the streets. He was building East Broadway at the time of his death. This was later taken over by the borough and the work completed.

His interests were not confined entirely to the north end of town. He was responsible for the plotting and laying out of Fifth and Fifth street, and had plans for Sixth street. His dream was to connect the north and east ends of town, and the land and development of Joseph E. Codori which was purchased from the Winter estate which had been acquired for this purpose by Mr. Winter.

Mr. Winter was interested also in industrial development in Gettysburg. He was instrumental in organizing the Gettysburg Brick company, later the Auburn Brick company. He attempted to have the borough council purchase the old electric power plant, located where the Victor Products plant now is operated, but his efforts failed.

filled in the breaking of the bread and the blessing of the wine, with the utterance of the words "This is My Body" and "This is My Blood."

The closing service began with a procession by the children of the school, who occupied the front pews in the middle aisle of the church and included the rosary, by priest and people with the Rev. Cyril J. Allwein leading; "Veni Creator," by the choir; sermon by the Rev. Father Kaspar; "Panis Angelicus," by the choir; chanting of the Litany of the Saints by the clergy with the Rev. Fr. M. M. Menko, as chanter; procession of the Blessed Sacrament, with the children and the priests participating, and the closing traditional hymn, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name." The girls of the school wore dresses and white veils and the flower girls, also in white, wore ribbon wreaths and carried baskets of flowers.

Get Cost Figures On Water Line, Hydrants

Brushtown residents are getting estimates on the probable cost of laying 500 feet of water mains and installing two fire hydrants to supply fire protection for their community. The water supply is to be made available from a pool to be constructed on private land by Raymond J. Hufnagel, Brushtown merchant.

Charles "Chuck" Myers, another Brushtown storekeeper, had planned to build the pool as a joint project but Hufnagel has offered to build the pool alone if Mr. Myers will add his contribution to the sum which will be raised by the town-folk if they decide to accept the merchants' offer.

A meeting was held Monday evening when the proposition was laid before the community's residents. Another meeting will be held later this week, probably Thursday evening, for a decision after cost figures are secured.

ALL TOP TEAMS BUT INDIANS AND GIANTS TOPPLED

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Say, doesn't anybody want to win the pennant?

That seems to be the picture today as the top contenders in the American and National leagues keep passing up chance after chance to take a stranglehold on first place.

The New York Yankees appeared on the way to the American league flag after winning those vital games from Cleveland Sunday and Monday.

So what happened? The Yankees blew a 7-1 decision to the fourth place Chicago White Sox last night. That cut their lead over the Indians from a full game to a microscopic three percentage points.

Brooklyn Joined the Act

Now face Boston's third place Red Sox. Winner of six of their last seven, the Red Sox seemed ready to deliver the knockout punch to the groggy Indians. Instead, the Tribe sharpened their tomahawks and scalped the Bostonians, 6-4. The defeat left the Red Sox still two and a half games off the pace.

Even Brooklyn joined the act. Generally regarded as sure-fire world series participants, the Dodgers now find themselves hard put to keep the persistent New York Giants off their necks.

The Dodgers saw their once 13 1/2 game margin shrink to three yesterday when they bowed to the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-1, as the Giants took a 6-5 squeaker from Cincinnati.

Would Take Minor Miracle

While there is some reason for Dodger alarm, it would still take a minor miracle for the Giants to overhaul them. Brooklyn owns a commanding five-game bulge in the important losing side. The Giants have only eight games left to play against the Dodgers' 12.

That's where the Yankees have their edge too—in the losing side. Cleveland has won two more than New York but the Indians also have lost two more. They have only seven games left to 11 for New York and 12 for Boston. However, New York and Boston clash eight more times.

Pitcher Billy Pierce and Outfielder Eddie Stewart collaborated to beat the Yankees. The little lefthander throttled the Yankees with eight hits for his 14th triumph. Stewart, an ex-Yankee, hit a home run to tie the score at 1-1, then shattered the deadlock with a bases-loaded single in the eighth which put the Sox in front. 3-1. Chicago added four more runs and routed the Yankees before the inning ended. The Yankee right-hander, who was gunning for his 20th victory, went down to his 10th defeat instead.

20th for Garcia

Mike Garcia, the strong-armed Cleveland righthander, was successful in his attempt for his 20th triumph. The Mexican hurler held the Red Sox to nine hits and helped himself to a mighty double in the Indians four-run sixth inning that sent Bill Wight down to his sixth defeat.

Elsewhere the St. Louis Browns swept a two-night doubleheader from Washington, 8-0, and 3-2. Detroit topped the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-6. Pittsburgh nipped Boston's Braves 6-5 and Chicago's Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4.

Scranton Miners Win Fifth Game

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 19 (P) — The Scranton Miners won their fifth straight playoff game last night and lead the Elmira Pioneers, 1-0, in the Eastern league Governor's Cup final.

The Miners grabbed the opener of the best-of-seven series, 4-1, before 1986 fans at Scranton. Ben Flowers spun a three-hitter for his 18th win.

The Miners finished second in the championship race and ousted fourth-place Hartford in four straight games in the semi-final. The Pioneers, who finished third, eliminated the champion Wilkes-Barre Indians in a seven-game semi-final set.

The teams meet here again tonight. The third fourth and, if necessary, fifth games will be played in Elmira starting tomorrow night.

Gather Today To Decide On "Czar"

Chicago, Sept. 19 (P) — Major league club owners began arriving today, 24 hours before they officially convene to try to agree on a baseball commissioner. Undoubtedly, there will be many secret hotel-room meetings among the 16 magnates with the hope of approaching a clear-cut decision beforehand.

Otherwise, tomorrow's parley could well be a drawn-out affair of wheeling the 12 majority votes needed to name a successor for the deposed A. B. (Happy) Chandler, a $65,000 per year man.

Generally regarded as the main candidates after two New York sessions of screening prospects are Warren Giles and Ford Frick. But if a stalemate should develop, a darkhorse could slip in or the owners could vote for adjournment to continue a quest of new timber.

Biglerville Gridders At Quarryville Friday Night

Smarting under the sting of two successive defeats, the Biglerville high school football squad will go all out to defeat South Lancaster County tonight at Quarryville Friday evening when the Gridders open their conference of the Roses schedule. The Lancaster countians, known as Solanco, dropped a 31-13 decision to Dallastown in their opening game Monday.

Second row, Coach Hobart Benchoff, William Jacobs, Joe Boyer, Cecil Sando, Kenneth Trummer, Lawrence Hartman, Terry Lower, Robert Hiltzbride, John Rhoades, Dean Stary.

BRUNDAGE SEES REFORM NEEDS

Chicago, Sept. 19 (P) — Avery Brundage, uncompromising spokesman for amateurism in athletics called today on American colleges to reform the "football program in order to save the sport."

"Responsibility for the evils of football can be laid squarely on the co-sponsors of the top level college administrative authorities, and not on the athletic departments," said Brundage. "It is their responsibility to correct the situation and prevent it from becoming a national scandal."

The reform Brundage proposes is simple: "College sports departments should be put on a par with the academic departments," he said. "We got into our present difficulty because our colleges followed the medieval notion that only the munc counts. They scorned the body. They also scorned the athletic departments."

"So college presidents and faculties paid no heed to the mad merry-go-round that football creates—rich inducements to players, heavier demands on coaches, bigger and more expensive publicity departments, bigger and better stadiums. The colleges did pay heed, however, to the money that football produced."

"What we have now is the natural result of putting the emphasis on dollars and publicity. In fact, the athletic departments have done a highly successful job of getting out. Abuse overlooked or tolerated in football are spreading to other clean and healthy sports and games and poisoning our entire amateur program. The way to stop this is to go back to the ancient Greek ideal which puts equal emphasis on developing the body along with the mind—which makes sport fun, instead of a commercial enterprise."

Brundage has been president of the U. S. Olympic association since 1928 and is international Olympic committee vice-president as well.

BULLETS SCRIME GAP GRIDGERS; DRILL TONIGHT

A steadily-improving Gettysburg college football squad turned in a fine performance against the Indian-town Gap army gridders in a scrimmage of the Bullets' field Tuesday afternoon.

Coach Henry T. Bream was well pleased with his outfit. Last Saturday the Bullets met the Shippensburg State Teachers' squad at Shippensburg and turned in another good performance.

Tonight the squad will workout under the lights on the Gettysburg high school field. A drill was also held this afternoon.

The Bullets will open their grid campaign by engaging the highly-rated Bucknell university team in the fifth annual Chocolate Bowl game in the Hershey stadium Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The game is sponsored by the Harrisburg Rotary club as a benefit for the Rotary Youth Foundation.

Local ticket sales for the contest indicate the Bream-men will have a strong backing for their opener.

Gettysburg fans will occupy the east side stands and Bucknell supporters the west side.

Scranton Miners Win Fifth Game

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP)—The Scranton Miners won their fifth straight playoff game last night and lead the Elmira Pioneers, 1-0, in the Eastern league Governor's Cup final.

The Miners grabbed the opener of the best-of-seven series, 4-1, before 1,986 fans at Scranton. Ben Flowers spun a three-hitter for his 18th win.

The Miners finished second in the championship race and ousted fourth-place Hartford in four straight games in the semi-final. The Pioneers, who finished third, eliminated the champion Wilkes-Barre Indians in a seven-game semi-final set.

The teams meet here again tonight. The third, fourth and, if necessary, fifth games will be played in Elmira, starting tomorrow night.

Gather Today To Decide On "Czar"

Chicago, Sept. 19 (AP)—Major league club owners began arriving today, 24 hours before they officially convene to try to agree on a baseball commissioner. Undoubtedly, there will be many secret hotel-room meetings among the 16 magnates with the hope of approaching a clear-cut decision beforehand.

Otherwise, tomorrow's parley could well be a drawn-out affair of wheeling the 12 majority votes needed to name a successor for the deceased A. B. (Happy) Chandler, a $65,000 per year man.

Generally regarded as the main candidates after two New York sessions of screening prospects are Warren Giles and Ford Frick. But if a stalemate should develop, a darkhorse could slip in or the owners could vote for adjournment to continue a quest of new timber.

BRUNDAGE SEES REFORM NEEDS

Chicago, Sept. 19 (AP)—Avery Brundage, uncompromising spokesman for amateurism in athletics, called today on American colleges to reform their football program in order to save the sport.

"Responsibility for the evils of football can be laid squarely on the doorsteps of the top level college administrative authorities, and not on the athletic departments," said Brundage. "It is their responsibility to correct the situation and prevent it from becoming a national scandal."

The reform Brundage proposes is simple: "College sports departments should be put on a par with the academic departments," he said. "We got into our present difficulty because our colleges followed the medieval notion that only the mind counts. They scorned the body. They also scorned the athletic departments."

"So college presidents and faculties paid no heed to the mad merry-go-round that football creates—rich inducements to players, heavier demands on coaches, bigger and more expensive publicity departments, bigger and better stadiums. The colleges did pay heed, however, to the money that football produced."

"What we have now is the natural result of putting the emphasis on dollars and publicity. In fact, the athletic departments have done a highly successful job of getting both. Abuses overlooked or tolerated in football are spreading to other clean and healthy sports and games and poisoning our entire amateur program. The way to stop this is to go back to the ancient Greek ideal which puts equal emphasis on developing the body along with the mind—which makes sport fun instead of a commercial enterprise."

Brundage has been president of the U. S. Olympic association since 1928 and is international Olympic committee vice-president as well.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 19 (AP)—The most important hit of the 1951 American league season may have been a bunt. . . . There'll be plenty of debates over Al Lopez' strategy before Monday's Yankee-Indian game is forgotten. . . . But the fact remains that Phil Rizzuto's perfect bunt that squeezed Joe DiMaggio home with the winning run dealt a heavy blow to Cleveland's pennant hopes. . . . So the Indians were a game behind, where a victory would have put them a game ahead, and it was left to the Red Sox to do something about that Yankee team that manages to win most of the important games. . . . The Sox have had the same sort of opportunity the past two years and failed to cash in, so how can you figure the same team will do it this time? . . . Incidentally, did you notice that Ed Lopat and Allie Reynolds have won 9 out of 12 games from the Indians this year—more than the whole Cleveland staff did against the Yanks.

FED UP

Dewitt Weaver, the Texas Tech football coach, insists he didn't mind when he heard of a rival school's talent scout invading the Tech domain. . . . (Could be he was pleased that his boys were so highly regarded). . . . What hurt Weaver was that the "spy" didn't stay for dinner. . . . "We're proud of our training table," Dewitt asserted, "and we're always ready to fix another plate for visitors."

BULLETS SCRIME GAP GRIDDERS; DRILL TONIGHT

A steadily-improving Gettysburg college football squad turned in a fine performance against the Indian-town Gap army gridders in a scrimmage on the Bullets' field Tuesday afternoon.

Coach Henry T. Bream was well pleased with his outfit. Last Saturday the Bullets met the Shippensburg State Teachers' squad at Shippensburg and urred in another good performance.

Tonight the squad will workout under the lights on the Gettysburg high school field. A drill was also held this afternoon.

The Bullets will open their grid campaign by engaging the highly-rated Bucknell university team in the fifth annual Chocolate Bowl game in the Hershey stadium Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The game is sponsored by the Harrisburg Rotary club as a benefit for the Rotary Youth Foundation.

Local ticket sales for the contest indicate the Bream-men will have a strong backing for their opener. Gettysburg fans will occupy the east side stands and Bucknell supporters the west side.

When you are run-down — low-spirited — have sleepless nights — no energy — "nerves" — poor appetite, don't be discouraged! Chances are you are just not getting your full daily requirements of the necessary vitamins and minerals from the food you eat.

What you should do is try FERRIZAN—the new dietary supplement and reconstructive tonic. FERRIZAN not only gives you your full quota of many of the essential vitamins but also supplies the equally important iron for the blood and iodine for the ductless glands plus needed Calcium and Phosphorus.

Often in ten days you may feel the difference; your friends notice it. Back comes your appetite—you should actually feel the urge to eat. Nerves can grow steeper; work easier; you may sleep more soundly. So why delay? Why not decide now to take FERRIZAN for 30 days and see for yourself just how wonderful FERRIZAN can make you feel. Costs you only a few cents a day. Money refunded if not completely satisfied, says "PEOPLES DRUG STORE"

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

STICK IT OUT!

In reading from some of the delightful writings of Thomas H. Raddall, Canada's famous novelist and story teller, I came across this piece of advice that the father of one of his characters gave. He said: "Never run from anything, son, till you're had a good look at it. Most times it's not worth running from."There is a world of sound advice wrapped up in this wise statement.
How many times in life each one of us could have profited greatly to our advantage by not running away from something that we did. The father who gave that suggestion to his son have been a great philosopher, as well as a good father.It's like worrying over things that never happen. How rare it is that we have need to worry, if ever!
Things just happen regardless of our foolish worrying, but most times they don't even happen! We'd better stick things out, and never run away. We'd better take a good look at anything that we are tempted to run away from.We all have such temptations. I am sure. In my junior year in college I got discouraged and many advised me to quit school, earn some money and go back and finish.
(I was working my way through.) I thought it over and then went to an old friend of father's who was a noted minister in Kansas City. When I told him my story he turned to me and said: "My boy, stick it out. Don't quit. There are already too many chaps with ragged edges to their character." I got ashamed of myself after that talk and went back and finished the course with my twin sister. You don't feel very good when you leave anything only half finished.People try to run away from things themselves, and even from life itself. But you can't do that. When you take a good look at things they can change right before your eyes!
How many of us have regretted running away from duties and opportunities that we ought to have stayed by, and handled! When things get toughest is the time to — stick it out.Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Yourself, Myself—Friend."

Just Folks

I DON'T BELIEVE IT

"Your name in gold stamped on the front cover will assure you that your book, when borrowed, will be returned."
—Book Publisher's sales letter.

A very trustful man am I.

There's much I will believe.
I'll take for truth the reasons why
All sorts of things I ought to buy
On pamphlets I receive.
But faith in such a claim I lack:
No borrowed book of mine comes back.I wondered could the man be saneWho wrote that falsehood
bold:
My full name typed in letters plainBrings back a borrowed book again—If it be stamped in gold.
If it were stamped in platinum
Back home no borrowed book would come.Time was I thought a book plate might

My treasures guarantee.

To ownership 'twould prove my right,
And borrowing friends to my delightWould bring them back to me—
Books don't come back! Upon my shelfI have a borrowed few myself.

Future In DoubtHarrisburg, Sept. 19 (AP) — House bills providing for a $46,000,000 pay increase for Pennsylvania's 60,000 teachers today faced an uncertain future in the Senate.The bills won unexpected approval of the Senate Education committee yesterday but further action will be held up until the tax deadlock is broken."Committee approval was given to test reaction to the bill," Sen. James S. Berger (R-Potter), Republican Caucus chairman, told a reporter, adding: "It will probably be returned to committee until the tax deadlock is settled."The link with the tax situation lies in the fact that the amount of the increase is $26,000,000 more than allocated by Gov. John S. Fine in his budget for increased education costs.

URGES DOCTORS INTO POLITICS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 19 (AP)—The new president of Pennsylvania's Medical Society wants doctors to take a more active part in politics.

Dr. Louis W. Jones, Wilkes-Barre, speaking at the 101st annual convention, said: "We must give serious consideration to combining with other organized groups in supporting some leader—be he Republican, Democrat or coalition—who with an honest faith in the Ten Commandments may take the government and return it to those who would perpetuate a free republic."

Dr. Jones said many of the movements endorsed by the medical society have met defeat in the General Assembly. He added: "When doctors in small communities become more interested in local politics and in good politicians, then we shall enjoy legislative relations much better than those we now deplore."

Dr. John O. Bower, of Philadelphia, said a medical commission set up in 1937 to prevent deaths from acute appendicitis now is ready to turn its attention to other fields.

Dr. Bower said the percentage of ruptured appendixes in the past 20 years has been reduced from 19 to three percent, with a 70 percent reduction in deaths.

Doctors also were told miracle drugs to cure stomach ulcers do not exist.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company No. 1 will serve dinner at noon on Thursday to a group of ladies from the stitching department of the Windsor Shoe company, Inc.

The choir of St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run, will meet for its regular rehearsal on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Littlestown Cub Scouts have planned to build a nine hole miniature golf course, and the scouts are requested to bring along materials for construction to the weekly meeting on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the grounds in the rear of the local high school building, Maple avenue. The cubs will receive their registration papers and they are also asked to bring along their achievement books so they can be checked by the den mothers for advancements.

For the Home-coming celebration at Grace Lutheran church on Sunday, a committee has issued invitations to all former members to attend the day's events. If any of the members, both present and past, have not received invitations they are cordially welcome to attend, as well as the public. Those planning to attend the banquets being served by the Ladies Aid society at 12 o'clock noon and again at 4 p.m. in the parish house are asked to notify Charles Little, Littlestown R. 2, and also state how many are to be served.

AGRICULTURAL MOBILIZATION BOARD DRAWS UP 11 SUGGESTIONS

The Adams County Agricultural Mobilization Board today sent 11 recommendations to the U.S. Department of Agriculture as its idea of ways to improve the services of the federal agricultural agencies.

The recommendations were made as part of the Family Farm Policy Review study conducted in the county. The review included a meeting of heads of all of the agencies, a public meeting held September 11 at which all farmers and others in the county had an opportunity to present their ideas on how to better the services of the agencies, individual suggestions made by farmers and others to the members of the mobilization board and studies made by members of the board themselves.

Similar meetings, discussions and studies are being held in each county throughout the U.S. as the U.S. Department of Agriculture hopes to find out just how effectively its agencies operate to help the family farm maintain its integrity and improve its position.

List Of Recommendations

The recommendations include:

Government should provide storage locally so that each farmer would be paid for his grade of wheat, etc., at the delivery point.

Since the government is supporting the price of wheat it should provide suitable storage facilities for the farmers to maintain their grade.

The office of information should work out some system to reach the farmers who are not now using the agricultural agencies.

Remove Political Flavor

The office of information should prepare a brief description in pamphlet form explaining the origin, organization and purpose of each federal agricultural agency. These pamphlets should be written in simple language so that farmers can read them and understand the descriptions. The pamphlets would be for distribution to every farmer and non-farmer in the county.

The office of information should provide its agencies with radio script and news releases, written in brief form in farmer language.

That all political flavor be removed from all federal agricultural agencies.

Want Standard Time

That the USDA rid its ranks of all unnecessary personnel.

That subsidized agricultural programs be curtailed or eliminated as rapidly as possible.

Officials of each federal farm agency should become more familiar with all other agencies operating in the county.

Recommend that the USDA use its influence to maintain standard time throughout the entire year.

Require farmers to present certificates showing the need of lime or fertilizer before receiving government payment for this practice.

Leghorn Edges Out Rhode Island Red

Harrisburg, Sept. 19 (AP)—The 1951 Pennsylvania egg laying contest title was held today by a Keystone state hen for the first time in 11 years.

A single comb white Leghorn owned by Graybill Poultry Farm, McAlisterville, Juniata county, edged out a Rhode Island hen from Ithaca, N.Y.

The second place bird in the 52-week contest was entered by the Babcock Farm, Ithaca.

The official records released showed the Pennsylvania hen laid 326 eggs to 328 for the New York state bird.

However, contest officials pointed out the contest is decided on points with the weight of the eggs a major factor. The Pennsylvania hen laid heavier eggs to amass 354.90 points compared with 353.40 for the Rhode Island bird.

FARM CALENDAR

Exhibit Quality Products

Venue for exhibit at fairs and community shows should be true to variety type, says Robert Fletcher, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. They should be of good market quality, and where there is more than one in exhibit, each specimen should be the same size, color, shape, and maturity.

Feed Good Hay

Be sure to store some of the best legume hay for the poultry Penn State extension poultry specialists say that such hay can take the place of some expensive grain. Before feeding the hay cut it into one to four-inch lengths with a ensilage or straw cutter. Then it can be fed on the floor or in racks.

Bale Grass Silage

Where a field chopper is not available for handling grass and legume silage, a pickup baler may be used without taint, says Burton Horne, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. The United Bales or "plugs" are easier to handle than tangled forage.

Control Blight

Continue to spray or dust with fixed copper while the tomato plants are still producing, says A. H. Bauer, Penn State extension plant pathologist. Dusts should be applied after every rain to control the blight which can cause great loss.

Farmers Get Help

Custom operators perform an important service for Pennsylvania agriculture, says J. K. Pasto, Penn State farm management specialist. They enable many farmers to gain the benefit of modern machine operations without buying costly equipment.

Avoid Off Flavors

To prevent off-flavor milk, feed dairy cows after milking and ventilate the barn so the air will be clean and fresh, urges I. E. Parkin, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

Control Sheep Parasites

Lambs should get a drenching with phenothiazine this summer to control internal parasites, says James Christian, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. In addition, he urges sheepmen to keep a salt-phenothiazine mixture before the flock at all times and to use good management.

Whitewash Roof

Poultry houses with low, uninsulated roofs will keep cooler in the summer if the roofs are treated with a heavy coating of whitewash, reminds Fritz Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. The white surface reflects the heatwaves and cuts down inside pen temperatures as much as 10 degrees.

Make Compost Pile

One way to add humus to the garden is by using a compost pile. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, suggests these materials: Leaves, grass, weeds, straw, discarded plant remains from the garden if they are not diseased, scrap of vegetable matter, sawdust, sod, soil, and animal manures.

Paint Metal Roofs

If the metal roofs on farm buildings need painting, be sure to do the job while the weather is warm, says Howard Bingham, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. The roofs must be dry and free from dust and dirt. Paint all rusted spots first.

Pick Good Tomatoes

Whether for the cannery or home use, pick tomatoes that are ripe, well-formed, free from molds, decay, damage

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—A move to link southern Democrats with

The move, sponsored in large part by Senators Murki (R-SD) and Brewster (R-Me.) but with this country from Senator Taft (R-Ohio), a potential GOP presidential candidate, is not meant to discourage it, and it is the practicality of the plan.

He added: "When doctors in small communities become more interested in good politics and in good politicians, then we shall enjoy legislative relations much better than those we now deplore."

Dr. John O. Bower, of Philadelphia, said a medical commission set up in 1937 to prevent deaths from acute appendicitis now is ready to turn its attention to other fields.

Dr. Bower said the percentage of ruptured appendixes in the past 20 years has been reduced from 19 to three percent, with a 70 percent reduction in deaths.

Doctors also were told miracle drugs to cure stomach ulcers do not exist.

AGRICULTURAL MOBILIZATION BOARD DRAWS UP 11 SUGGESTIONS

The Adams County Agricultural Mobilization Board today sent 11 recommendations to the U.S. Department of Agriculture as its idea of ways to improve the services of the federal agricultural agencies.

The recommendations were made as part of the Family Farm Policy Review study conducted in the county. The review included a meeting of heads of all of the agencies, a public meeting held September 11 at which all farmers and others in the county had an opportunity to present their ideas on how to better the services of the agencies, individual suggestions made by farmers and others to the members of the mobilization board and studies made by members of the board themselves.

Similar meetings, discussions and studies are being held in each county throughout the U.S. as the U.S. Department of Agriculture hopes to find out just how effectively its agencies operate to help the family farm maintain its integrity and improve its position.

List Of Recommendations

The recommendations include: "Government should provide storage locally so that each farmer would be paid for his grade of wheat, etc., at the delivery point."

"Since the government is supporting the price of wheat it should provide suitable storage facilities for the farmers to maintain their grade."

"The office of information should work out some system to reach the farmers who are not now using the agricultural agencies."

Remove Political Flavor

"The office of information should prepare a brief description in pamphlet form explaining the origin, organization and purpose of each federal agricultural agency. These pamphlets should be written in simple language so that farmers can read them and understand the descriptions. The pamphlets would be for distribution to every farmer and non-farmer in the county."

"The office of information should provide its agencies with radio script and news releases, written in brief form in farmer language."

Want Standard Time

"That the USDA rid its ranks of all unnecessary personnel."

"That subsidized agricultural programs be curtailed or eliminated as rapidly as possible."

"Officials of each federal farm agency should become more familiar with all other agencies operating in the county."

"Recommend that the USDA use its influence to maintain standard time throughout the entire year."

"Require farmers to present certificates showing the need of lime or fertilizer before receiving government payment for this practice."

Leghorn Edges Out Rhode Island Red

Harrisburg, Sept. 19 (AP)—The 1951 Pennsylvania egg laying contest title was held today by a Keystone state hen for the first time in 11 years.

A single comb white Leghorn owned by Graybill Poultry Farm, McAlisterville, Juniata county, edged out a Rhode Island hen from Ithaca, N. Y.

The second place bird in the 50-week contest was entered by the Babcock Farm, Ithaca.

The official records released showed the Pennsylvania hen laid 326 eggs to 328 for the New York state bird.

However contest officials pointed out the contest is decided on points with the weight of the eggs a major factor. The Pennsylvania hen laid heavier eggs to amass 354.50 points compared with 353.40 for the Rhode Island bird.

FARM CALENDAR

Exhibit Quality Products — Vegetables for exhibit at fairs and community shows should be true to variety type, says Robert Fletcher, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. They should be of good market quality, and where there is more than one in exhibit, each specimen should be the same size, color, shape, and maturity.

Feed Good Hay — Be sure to store some of the best legume hay for the poultry. Penn State extension poultry specialists say that such hay can take the place of some expensive grain. Before feeding the hay cut it into one to four-inch lengths with an ensilage or straw cutter. Then it can be fed on the floor or in racks.

Bale Grass Silage — Where a field chopper is not available for handling grass and legume silage, a pickup baler may be used without twine, says Burton Horne, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. The untied bales, or "plugs," are easier to handle than tangled forage.

Control Blight — Continue to spray or dust with fixed copper while the tomato plants are still producing, urges A. H. Bauer, Penn State extension plant pathologist. Dusts should be applied after every rain to control the blight which can cause great loss.

Farmers Get Help — Custom operators perform an important service for Pennsylvania agriculture, says J. K. Pasto, Penn State farm management specialist. They enable many farmers to gain the benefit of modern machine operations without buying costly equipment.

Avoid Off Flavors — To prevent off-flavor milk, feed dairy cows after milking and ventilate the barn so the air will be clean and fresh, urges I. E. Parkin, Penn State extension dairy specialist.

Control Sheep Parasites — Lambs should get a drenching with phenothiazine this summer to control internal parasites, says James Christian, extension livestock specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. In addition, he urges sheepmen to keep a salt-phenothiazine mixture before the flock at all times and to use good management.

Whitewash Roof — Poultry houses with low, uninsulated roofs will keep cooler in the summer if the roofs are treated with a heavy coating of whitewash, reminds Fritz Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. The white surface reflects the heatwaves and cuts down inside pen temperatures as much as 10 degrees.

Make Compost Pile — One way to add humus to the garden is by using a compost pile. J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, suggests these materials: Leaves, grass, weeds, straw, discarded plant remains from the garden if they are not diseased, scrap of vegetable matter, sawdust, sod, soil, and animal manures.

Paint Metal Roofs — If the metal roofs on farm buildings need painting, be sure to do the job while the weather is warm, says Howard Bingham, Penn State extension agricultural engineer. The roofs must be dry and free from dust and dirt. Paint all rusted spots first.

Pick Good Tomatoes — Whether for the cannery or home use, pick tomatoes that are ripe, well-formed, free from molds, decay, damage caused by worms, and other injuries, and handle them carefully to avoid bruising.

Move Range Equipment — Moving the feeding and watering equipment on the poultry range will help to avoid bare spots and mud holes, says C. O. Dossin, Penn State poultry specialist.

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP)—A move to link southern Democrats with conservative Republicans got a cool reception Tuesday from some politicians.

The move, sponsored in large part by Senators Mundt (R-SD) and Brewster (R-Me), brought this comment from Senator Taft (R-Ohio), a potential GOP presidential candidate: "I don't want to discourage it, but I doubt the practicability of the plan."

Communists File Another Charge

Tokyo, Sept. 19 (AP)—The Communists charged Monday that three Allied soldiers had invaded the Kaesong neutral zone, site of suspended cease-fire talks.

The headquarters of the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, said the Reds made the charge in a radio contact with the United Nations command advance headquarters in Korea.

A headquarters release said U. N. representatives would meet Red armistice delegation leaders at 9 a.m. Thursday (7 p.m. EST) at Panmunjom, Red checkpoint southeast of Kaesong, apparently to discuss the charge.

The release said the Reds requested the meeting but were not clear as to what subject would be discussed.

SAYS 28TH HAS BIG MISSION

Harrisburg, Sept. 19 (AP)—Pennsylvania's Europe-bound 28th Infantry Division will be given a strategic mission "right near the iron curtain," says Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, its commanding officer.

Strickler made the disclosure during appearances before the House and the Senate here Monday.

The former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania said the 28th division will remain in Europe as long as world conditions require.

"Our job will be to create the impression at least that we are ready to do something if trouble starts and to ward off war if possible," Strickler told legislators.

He said the division has now concluded its scheduled training at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and will leave for Europe in November.

Strickler also took occasion to pay tribute to the Keystone members of the federalized Pennsylvania National Guard division.

"I have never seen such a fine group of young Americans as we have in the 28th at present," said Strickler. "They are well-behaved, smart and eager to learn."

Communists File Another Charge

Tokyo, Sept. 19 (AP)—The Communists charged Monday that three Allied soldiers had invaded the Kyeong neutral zone, site of suspended cease-fire talks.

The headquarters of the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, said the Reds made the charge in a radio contact with the United Nations command advance headquarters in Korea.

A headquarters release said U. N. representatives would meet Red armistice delegation leaders at 9 a.m. Thursday (7 p.m., EST) at Panmunjom, Red checkpoint southeast of Kaesong, apparently to discuss the charge.

The release said the Reds requested the meeting but were not clear as to what subject would be discussed.

It gave no details about the three Allied soldiers.

RADIO

New York, Sept. 19 (AP) — Olsen and Johnson and Spike Jones, dispensing their own types of hilarity in separate shows, have returned to NBC-TV in somewhat subdued mood. Neither seemed as strenuous as in previous efforts.

The obvious effort to put their entertainment more into keeping with the living-room atmosphere probably should be attributed to reactions to their earlier productions as much as anything else. Olsen was shown only when seated behind a desk or other obstruction. He still is recovering from a broken leg.

Otherwise, there was enough humor in both shows for the laugh seekers, along with the usual quota of feminine pulchritude.

New York's Rocky Graziano, seeking still another comeback in the middleweight division, will be one of the principals in tonight's boxing bout from Detroit on CBS radio and TV. His opponent is Tony Janiro. Russ Hodges will talk for radio and John Derr for TV starting at 10 eastern daylight or 9 eastern standard.

Because Bill Stern of NBC will be devoting his attention to college football games on television this fall, a new voice is being sought for the radio gridiron broadcasts. For the season opener Saturday four announcers will do a quarter-game each. Then one will be selected to describe future football.

On the air tonight (Wednesday): NBC—8 Pete Kelly's Blues; 9 It Pays To Be Ignorant; 10:30 Meredith Willson music.

CBS—8 Mr. Chameleon mystery; 8:30 Dr. Christian "Amelia Has a Change of Heart"; 9 The Lineup drama; 9:30 Johnny Dollar "Cuban Jewel Matter."

ABC—8 American Agent; 8:30 The Fat Man; 9 Rogue's Gallery; 9:30 Mr. President; 10 Time Bomb, documentary drama.

MBS—8 Hidden Truth; 8:30 Airport drama "Until Proven Guilty"; 9 2000 Plus, science fiction; 9:30 Family Theater, "The Kiddy Story."

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for the period, Wednesday, September 19, through Sunday, September 23:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and mid-Atlantic states: Rain Friday and Saturday and in north portion Thursday, total one-half inch north and three-quarters of an inch in south portion; temperature two to four degrees below normal; moderate temperatures at the beginning, followed by cooler Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York, Ohio and West Virginia: Temperature will average three to four degrees below normal; slightly warmer Wednesday, cooler Friday and continued cool over the weekend; some rain Thursday and in south and east portions Friday and in southeast portion Saturday; total rain about one-third inch in the west and a half in east portion.

Salary Increases Allowed Up To 6 Pct.

Washington, Sept. 19 (AP) — Employers were told on Monday they may grant salary increases for merit or length of service up to six percent of their annual payroll.

In setting up this formula, the salary stabilization board said that if the six per cent ceiling is observed within a plant or company, individual salary boosts of up to ten per cent may be granted.

The board described its ruling as an interim one to be followed later by a more comprehensive regulation.

Harrisburg, Sept. 19 (AP)—The appointment of Seth Gordon as head of California's new fish and game department has been hailed as a tribute to the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

"I think this is a tribute to the Game Commission of Pennsylvania and the high esteem which other states have for the work of the commission," said Tomas D. Prye, who succeeded Gordon as director of the commission.

Mother Killed In Leap To Aid Child

West Memphis, Ark., Sept. 19 (AP) —A five-year-old girl escaped with a bruised knee when she tumbled from a moving motor car, but her mother was killed leaping from the vehicle before it stopped.

J. J. Smith of Holly Springs, Miss., told police his daughter, Clara Bell, fell to the pavement when she accidentally opened a door while he was driving about 45 miles an hour Monday.

He said his wife, Clara, shouted, "Lord have mercy, the baby fell out," and leaped from the car before he could restrain her.

Mrs. Smith, who was 51, was dead on arrival at a hospital at Memphis, Tenn. Clara Bell was dismissed after receiving first aid treatment.
